I- INTRODUCCION

Esta publicación tiene como objetivo reeditar y mejorar la presentación de los resultados provisionales del CENSO NACIONAL DE POBLACION, FAMILIAS Y VIVIENDAS-1970 publicados con anterioridad (*) cuyas ediciones se hallan agotadas. Se trata pues, de una compaginación, orientada según el interés que revelan las demandas recibidas de los usuarios.

Se incluyen algunos cuadros con datos retrospectivos de los relevamientos censales de 1914, 1947 y 1960, con la finalidad de resaltar ciertas características básicas que configuraban el panorama demográfico de la República Argentina en 1970.

Se destaca, además, que esta publicación incorpora una serie de cuadros, hasta ahora no publicados, que ofrecen una aproximación razonable a la clasificación de la población (total y por provincias) en urbana y rural. El criterio de clasificación se basa en un corte en el tamaño de las localidades, tomando para ello el límite de 2.000 habitantes.

En cuanto a la ordenación de los cuadros, este trabajo dedica un sector a los totales nacionales con apertura por jurisdicción mayor (provincias) y un sector a cada una de estas últimas con apertura por departamento o partido.

Cabe señalar a la atención del usuario de esta publicación que durante la preparación de la obra citada al pie como (2) se advirtieron algunas diferencias menores con relación a las publicadas en (1). Ellas fueron las siguientes:

1 - Partido de Avellaneda (Provincia de Buenos Aires)
Cantidad de viviendas - según (1): 89.317
según (2): 89.313

Cantidad de viviendas - según (1): 23.958
según (2): 24.878

2 - Departamento Capital (Provincia de San Juan)
Cantidad de habitantes - según (1): 112.500
según (2): 112.582

(*) (1) CENSO NACIONAL DE POBLACION, FAMILIAS Y VIVIENDAS-1970.
(2) CENSO NACIONAL DE POBLACION, FAMILIAS Y VIVIENDAS-1970
RESULTADOS PROVISIONALES - Localidades con 1.000 y más habitantes.
II - ANALISIS COMPARATIVO CON CENSOS NACIONALES ANTERIORES

La publicación citada como (1), al pie de la página anterior, contiene un breve capítulo dedicado al análisis de las características del proceso demográfico en la República Argentina, a través del estudio de los principales atributos poblacionales.

Las conclusiones de ese análisis fueron las siguientes:

1) La tasa de crecimiento anual medio de la población argentina es baja, en comparación con la mayor parte de los países de América Latina (ver Cuadros I, II, III).

2) Marcada concentración de la población en zonas urbanas industrializadas, preferentemente en el Gran Buenos Aires, como consecuencia de movimientos de migración interna provenientes de áreas expulsoras (ver Cuadros IV, a VII).

3) Notable disminución del número de extranjeros respecto de 1914 y su radicación en zonas localizadas: Gran Buenos Aires y algunas provincias fronterizas (ver Cuadros VIII y IX).

4) Marcado cambio del índice de masculinidad en el total del país y a nivel regional (ver Cuadro X).

Al final de este capítulo se agregan los cuadros comparativos citados.

POBLACION EN AGLOMERADOS

Básicamente, son tres los criterios reconocidos para la delimitación de áreas urbanas: el legal, el funcional y el físico. El criterio legal se basa en los límites administrativos. Sin embargo, la aplicación de este criterio presenta el inconveniente de la relativa rigidez de tales límites frente al fenómeno dinámico de la expansión urbana. El uso del criterio funcional se ve en la práctica obstaculizado por la gran cantidad de información adicional que requiere. El criterio físico toma en cuenta el uso del suelo, la continuidad en la edificación y la existencia de una trama circulatoria. Este criterio fue el que se utilizó en el censo en las tareas de delimitación de los aglomerados de población.

A los efectos prácticos se consideró como "localidad" al poblado que reuniera los siguientes atributos:

1. Que la densidad de edificación no fuera inferior a una vivienda por hectárea.
2. Que presentara un trazado regular de calles y manzanas.

Al comparar las cifras de 1970 de población en aglomerados y localidades con las respectivas del censo de 1960, deberá tenerse en cuenta que, en 1970 se utilizaron criterios distintos, más rigurosos, que los empleados en el censo anterior. Como ejemplo de este problema puede señalarse el de la delimitación del Gran Buenos Aires.

Con la introducción del concepto de población aglomerada o más brevemente aglomerado, surge una nueva definición de la superficie considerada. Ella incluye:

a) la Capital Federal.
b) las áreas urbanas de nueve partidos que no forman parte de los 19 del Gran Buenos Aires (Escobar, Cañuelas, General Rodríguez, La Plata, Marcos Paz, San Vicente y Pilar) al par que se excluye las respectivas áreas rurales.
c) la superficie total de siete partidos del Gran Buenos Aires (General San Martín, Lanús, Lomas de Zamora, Morón, San Isidro, Tres de Febrero y Vicente López).
d) parcialmente la de los 12 restantes partidos del Gran Buenos Aires (Avellaneda, Berazategui, Florencio Varela, Almirante Brown, Quilmes, Esteban Echeverría, General San Martín, Moreno, San Fernando, Merlo, Tigre y la Matanza).

Los planos de aglomerados y ciudades que se incluyen en esta publicación, corresponden sólo a localidades de más de 100,000 habitantes en 1970.

(2) La localidad de la Colonia con una población de 3428 fue incluida como población urbana de San Martín dentro de la localidad de San Martín, siendo que pertenece a la población urbana de Junín.

La población total de ambos departamentos es la correcta, por lo tanto al restarle a la población urbana de San Martín los 3428 personas de la Colonia se incrementa su población rural con igual proporción ajustándose el total departamental. Mientras que en Junín al sumarle a la población urbana la Colonia disminuye en igual proporción su población rural ajustándose también el total departamental.

(1) Localidades de 2,000 y más habitantes.
